

Motivational Comprehension

We have created the Motivational Comprehension to support children who are able to read but find it difficult to understand what they have read. It has been designed for pupils who need their learning tailored to their specific interests in order to engage. We use the format of the ASD comprehension programme but tailor the content to what will motivate the individual pupil.

Pupils read sentences or a short text about their interests and answer questions about what they have read. Pupils can answer questions verbally, using communication aids (including symbols), signing or by writing.

We are continuing to develop the resources in our Motivational Comprehension programme to support pupils and their interests.

The fox is running into his den.

Who is in the picture?

What are they doing?

What are they going?